AN ETHNOGRAPHIC STUDY OF THE PEOPLE OF KWATHA VILLAGE

As an integral part of the syllabus for B. Sc./ B.A. VI semester (hons) in Anthropology an ethnographic field work was conducted at Kwatha village , Tengnoupal District, Manipur, selected by the department of Anthropology, Kha Manipur College Kakching, Manipur. The study was conducted from the 25th to 29th Feb. 2020. Altogether 39 students guided by 4 teachers of the department went to the field could complete the field assignment in the said specific period despite of many difficulties. Different tools i.e. interview, observation, social census photography and somatometric measurements etc. were used during the field study to find out the socio- cultural life of the people.

Kwatha is a small hill village of traditional Meitei Schedule Caste people of Manipur. It stands on the top of spur of a range that extends from the Lokchao, near Moreh town in the Indo- Myanmar border of India. He village is under the jurisdiction of Tengnoupal district and within the Moreh Polish Station and Khudengthabi Post Office.

The people of Kwatha have their own tradition , culture, history and heritage. They are indigenous Meitei community living in the hilly area. They are considered as Lois and included in the Scheduled caste category of Manipur. The Kwatha speak Manipuri and follow the social and cultural tradition of the Meitei in general. The long isolation without affection contacts with the plain Meitei and the long interaction with the neighbouring hill tribals and the Sans of Kabaw (Myanmar) have caused direct effect on the socio cultural and the religious life of the Kwathas. The domestic life is very much similar that of the tribals. So it may not be wholly true that the Kwatka, an isolated hill Meitei, can represent culturally a true or pre Hindu Meitei.
